

The 2010 school year is quickly drawing to a close! It's been a busy year for everyone involved with Taree Public School.

Today we had a very successful celebration of the 2010 school year. Many children received awards for their efforts and it was fun to share a bbq with parents and community members after wards.

Thanks Mr Muir for your delicious cooking again! Mr John Williams, school education director, will be visiting our school for the morning this Wednesday. He will not see Some of Mrs Clapson's class or Mrs Raymond's class because they will be at the Taronga Park Zoo in Sydney. Hopefully the elephants and tigers won't keep everyone awake they will all get some sleep. How exciting!!

This week, men's business will be on Friday. Boys whose behaviour has been excellent will be travelling to Newcastle to see the Newcastle Knights training. It's the first of a series of such visits, so hopefully a bigger group will be going next time. Permission notes are going home today for those boys.

Don't forget the end of year concert will be on Tuesday, 14th December – please keep the day free!! Costumes are being organised by class teachers. The concert will begin at 10am in the school assembly room. After the concert, parents are invited to stay for morning tea. Class parties will be on Tuesday afternoon and the big end of year clean up will be on Wednesday.

Wednesday, 15th December is the last day for children. Teachers and support staff will be at school for staff development days on Thursday and Friday. We are doing some Aboriginal cultural training. On Friday afternoon we will join Taree High School at Saltwater. Enjoy the week
